Home-Schooled Student Certification

Valley Christian School and the Christian Athletic League allow the participation of home-schooled students with Valley Christian School teams if they meet the following requirements:

- The student is taking courses at home or through a home school co-op.
- The student is not enrolled in any college or vocational courses outside the home other than PSEO courses. If enrolled in PSEO courses they are enrolled as a home-schooled student.
- The student is not enrolled in courses at any other public, charter or private school.
- The student has not attended practices or tried out for any other public, charter, private, or home-school team.
- The student is making satisfactory progress towards graduation.

The Christian Athletic League may allow exceptions to these requirements in special circumstances. Please contact the school office if your student does not fully meet these requirements.

I certify that my home-schooled student meets the above requirements for participation with Valley Christian School athletic teams.
